Check out the PLIT online site at www.avmaplit.com. All you need to access the information is your AVMA member number. Be sure to visit the site and bookmark it for when you need information in the future.

Web-based Training Tool for Interactive Employee Training
Employee hazard communication training is available on the website on the identification and safe handling of hazardous chemicals. The purpose of this training to ensure that your employees are aware of hazardous chemicals at the practice and that training and information is communicated on chemical handling. Furthermore, federal law requires that employees working with or around chemicals receive proper training. At the conclusion of this course, the goal is for your team members to understand these two objectives.

Employee Training Guides
Three volumes of the PLIT Employee Training Guides are available at www.avmaplit.com, or call our Fax-on-Demand service. These are user friendly guides developed to keep safety meetings productive and interesting. The guides cover more than thirty topics.

Fax-on-Demand: 888-740-7548
Our popular loss control and safety information is available on the toll-free fax-on-demand service. Simply call and select a menu or topic number, then enter your fax number. An automated operator will guide you through the process. The document(s) that you requested will be faxed to you at the end of your call.

Professional Liability
This quarterly publication has been educating veterinarians on professional liability claims, industry changes and coverage descriptions for more than twenty-five years. Regular columns include:
• Open and closed claims
• Questions and Answers - If I report a claim, will my professional liability premium increase?
• Take Action! — suggestions for you and your entire staff to develop and implement loss control protocol.

Promote Safety in Your Clinic
Seventeen posters are available in English and Spanish to post in your clinic and exam rooms. An order form is available on Fax-on-Demand. Posters include:
1. For Your Safety Please Allow Our Staff To Restrain Your Animal During Examination
2. Keep Gates and Doors Closed
3. Keep Your Pets on Leash
4. Keep Your Small Pets in Carriers
5. Prevent Cat and Dog Bites
